

AFHC Awards for Healthy Cities 2007

August 31, 2007

The Alliance for Healthy Cities (AFHC) invites you to apply for AFHC Awards for Healthy Cities 2007.

AFHC recognizes and promotes outstanding practices and innovations of Healthy Cities. On the basis of our experiences with our member cities and organizations since 2004, the Alliance has encouraged (1) a statement in support of Healthy Cities in individual cities, (2) development of a future vision and goals, (3) compilation of profiles of the cities, and (4) analysis of priority health problems. AFHC has also encouraged cities to carry out process evaluation by using a model checklist.

Accumulation of years of experiences of Healthy Cities now allows AFHC members to share innovations made through the development of individual healthy cities. This year, AFHC accepts reports on the following topics as applications for AFHC Awards for Healthy Cities 2007.

We encourage submission of your reports because this will strengthen members' Healthy Cities initiatives and give important opportunities for sharing experiences within our members, as well as with broader international communities. Reports that receive awards will be published in a new AFHC website.

The deadline of submission of the application for AFHC Awards for Healthy Cities 2007 is 12 November 2007.
